

CONCORD.

District W. B. C. Meeting.

The annual district convention of the W. R. C. was held with Woodbury Corps, No. 5, at Odd Fellows hall Friday. Delegations from St. Johnsbury, Lunenburg and Lyndonville were present and with the members of the home corps made a convention of 77 members. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Clara Chaplin, the senior vice president, Mrs. Maude May, called the meeting to order and gave the following address of welcome:

"Members of district, No. 1, and sisters of the Relief Corps:

As a member of Woodbury W. R. C., I bid you welcome to this the annual convention of District No. 1. When we received the invitation to entertain you this year, it seemed more than we were equal to, with our small membership, and still smaller hall, but, as time went on, barrier after barrier was removed until today we find ourselves bidding you welcome to the first W. R. C. convention ever held in Concord, and I assure you it has been with genuine pleasure that we have prepared for and anticipated your coming. I believe it a vote of the corps in the district had been taken as to where to have held this convention they would have voted unanimously to have gone to St. Johnsbury to meet with Chamberlin corps, and why not. They have entertained us for so many years, that we all love to go there and as entertainers they have reached that state of perfection that comes not only naturally, but partly from these years of practice and experience, and they dispense their hospitality with an ease and grace that would be difficult for us to acquire in so short a time. As this is our 'maiden effort,' our first attempt, we ask you to 'be to our faults a little blind and to our failures, very kind.' We have not the beautiful town to welcome you to that you might have found elsewhere, though we that live here love for its associations and to us it is picturesque, nestled in among the green hills, and we know that it shelters homes as loyal and hearts as true as can be found in any town and we are glad to welcome you to Concord. We trust that the friendships and associations that were formed at the first district convention, will be not only strengthened but cemented in the bonds of fraternity by this meeting with us today and again in behalf of Woodbury W. R. C. I bid you welcome, welcome to this home."

Mrs. Nellie P. Bonnett of Chamberlin corps responded for the district as follows:

"Mrs. President and sisters of Woodbury corps No. 5:

In responding to this cordial heartfelt greeting, I know I voice the sentiment of the district here represented, in saying 'thank you' with my best bow, and telling you how pleased we are in having the privilege of visiting your pretty village, which has been visited by a flood and fire with more or less disastrous results, but never before by the district meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps. We trust that our visit will prove to be a help, instead of an injury as was the case in the calamitous result of the elements. Perhaps our meeting here today will tend to arouse to new efforts those who have lost enthusiasm and bring back into activity those who were of valuable assistance. It surely brings us into neighborly touch with each other and strengthens the bond of fraternity. If the greeting and response appeal to you as a family affair, let it be synonymous of what our relatives should be as sister members of the same order, working together for the same cause. Again I thank the members of Woodbury corps for this pleasant greeting."

Chamberlin corps of St. Johnsbury did the installation service in a very creditable manner. Woodbury corps served a chicken pie dinner at noon, after which Howard corps of Lunenburg exemplified the ritual work in a manner beyond criticism. The meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock. It was considered a very pleasant and profitable session.

GLOVER.

Simpson-Phillips.

The marriage of Miss Elmina Louise Phillips and Fred E. Simpson of East Lyndon was solemnized at eight o'clock Sept. 11, at Pine Shade Farm, the very pretty home of the bride's parents. Before the appointed hour the house, which was profusely decorated with flowers, was filled with guests and relatives. At the first strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Mabel King and Mrs. B. U. Wells, the bride party descended the stairs, entered the parlor and made their way to a bower of green, where the ceremony, consisting of the doubling ring service was performed by Rev. Mr. Ross of West Glover. The bride, who was a very popular girl in Glover, was most becomingly gowned in white silk muslin and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Ruth L. Cheney of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Marion Bickford of Glover. The groom was attended by his nephew, W. A. Simpson, from East Lyndon and Harry Phillips, a brother of the bride. Little Alice Kelton a cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer. After the ceremony the interest of the guests was divided between surveying the numerous wedding gifts and watching the young couple in order that they might not make their escape without due attention. The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nickerson, Misses Susie, Mabel and Addie Hutchinson and Miss Sylvia Hovey all of East Lyndon and Mrs. B. N. Wells of Woodsville, N. H., and Miss Ruth L. Cheney of St. Louis, Mo.

On the evening of Sept. 8, the Glover Grange gave Miss Elmina Phillips a very pleasant reception at Institute Hall. There assembled her many friends and co-workers to wish her joy and express their heartfelt regret at her leaving town. The presence of Mr. Simpson added pleasure to the occasion. Miss Phillips has long been a very interested and loyal worker in the Grange and for the last seven years has very admirably held its secretaryship. At the making of their friendship and esteem they presented Miss Phillips with a fine chafing dish.
